Applicant respectfully traverses the assertion of the examiner.

Applicant disclosed in the specification that the optical input device may be a camera, digital camera, video or audio recording device or other optically assisted recognition device, charge-coupled devices such as disclosed in US 5182647 to Chang, video cameras, scanners and any other appropriate devices to record an image. (page 4, line 6-8; page 11, line 8-11; page 14, lines 2-5)

Applicant also disclosed in the specification that Figure 2 depicts an entry point or security checkpoint 52, which may comprise a zone 50. The intelligent observation and identification database system 10 preferably utilizes an observation post or checkpoint 52 at an entrance or an exit to a secured zone 50 to optically observe and input, at both the entrance and the exit, information to record and store within the database 30 for identification of regular and repetitive conduct of specific vehicles 70 or individuals 56 within the security zone 50. (page 13, line 20-25). Applicant also disclosed in the specification that the intelligent video/audio observation and identification database system 10 may include optical input devices 12 arranged to record an image of the vehicle occupants 56. Desirably the input devices 12 are positioned to record a front view and/or a side profile of the various occupants 56. (page 20, line 26-29). Applicant also disclosed in the specification that it is anticipated that each optical input device 12 will be further electrically coupled to, and may be in communication with, a facial recognition system which may be integral to and/or independent of the intelligent audio/visual observation and identification database system 10. (page 27, line 6-9)

Applicant respectfully asserts that applicant has disclosed herein, and that it would have been readily apparent to a person skilled in the art, that the recording of a front view of a vehicle by an optical input device would record both a license plate and the face of a driver or passenger of the vehicle through the front windshield, as a vehicle approached a check point. Applicant respectfully asserts that applicants disclosure and specification is fully enabling under 35 U.S.C. §112. Applicant respectfully requests that the rejection under 35 U.S.C. §112 be withdrawn.

In addition, applicant has amended the specification herein by copying original claims 1 and 2 into the specification. Original claims 1 and 2 as filed constitute part of
